No School- Winter Break from Dec 23 – January 1 (Classes resume January 2)

Dear Families,

Thank you to all of the parents who took time to meet with your child's teacher at Parent/Teacher conferences. The home-school connection is an important piece of your child's education. If you were unable to meet at your scheduled conference time, please call your child's teacher to set up another time or connect over the phone.

If you have a question or concern about any area of your child's development, please feel free to call your child's teacher or Patty Mevis at 492-7209. She will be happy to work with you to resolve your concerns.

Recruitment Time

Head Start will begin taking applications, in January 2020 for the 2020-2021 school year. Head Start accepts children that are 3 or 4 years old by September 1, 2020. Applications will be available at the Green Bay District website at www.gbaps.org, and can be filled out online. You can also go to any Green Bay District elementary school, the District Office Building at 200 S. Broadway St., as well as our Head Start office at 1150 Bellevue St. Spread the word to family, friends and neighbors.

Welcome to our New Policy Council Executive Board

Welcome to our New 2019-2020 Policy Council and Congratulations to our new Policy Council Executive Board. Elections were held during our Policy Council meeting on November 19th. We welcome our new Executive Board and our new members. Thank you for your willingness to help shape the direction of our program through your involvement in Policy Council. All Head Start parents are invited to attend our monthly meetings. Check the Parent Engagement calendar or the monthly flyer for meeting dates and times. Our next meeting is on December 17 at the Parent Center. Call Judy at 920-448-7312 for more information.

Inclement Weather

As winter approaches, schools may be closed for the day or close early. Stay tuned to local radio and/or television for information. In the event of a two hour delay, morning Head Start/4K will be cancelled, full day will have a 2 hour delay. However, afternoon sessions will still take place. Follow us on Facebook to receive timely information about school closings. The decision to close school is never made lightly, and always with the safety of our students in mind.

Medications at School

If your child needs medication at school, please be sure to notify the Head Start Nurse at 920-272-7643 as soon as possible, as there is a procedure that must be followed, in order to allow medications to be given to your child at school. For all prescription and non-prescription medications, a Green Bay Public School District Medication Authorization form must be completed by doctor and parent/guardian, prior to medication administration at school.

Lead Poisoning

Lead Poisoning is preventable! Lead interferes with normal development of a young child's brain. The only way to know if a child is lead poisoned is to have your child's blood tested. For your child's health, Head Start requires that your child have a least one lead test on file that was completed on or after 24 months of age. If your child did not have a lead test done at that time, your Family Advocate will be contacting you to get this done at your child's doctor or WIC. For more information regarding lead poisoning, please contact the Head Start nurse, Heidi, at 272-7643, or the Brown County Health Department at 448-6400.

Special Education

IEP stands for Individualized Education Program. The IEP is a written statement of the educational program designed to meet a child's individual needs. Every child who receives special education services must have an IEP. The IEP has two general purposes:

- To set reasonable learning goals for a child, and
- To state the services that the school district will provide for the child.

If your child has been through the evaluation process and has an IEP, your child's teacher has been provided with the goals your IEP team developed. If you have questions about your child's IEP or your rights as a parent, please call your child's teacher or the Education and Disabilities Coordinator at 492-7209 or email, pamevis@gbaps.org.

How Much Sleep Do Children Need?

Sleep is very important to a child's overall well-being. A lack of sleep for kids can trigger challenging behaviors like irritability, aggression, & emotional extremes. Children can show their lack of sleep in ways that may not be obvious to adults. For example: when adults are tired they may be grumpy or have low energy; but a child can be "wound up", disrespectful, or even display behaviors which are mistaken for Attention Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD). And for those children who actually have ADHD, a lack of sleep makes the condition even worse.

Children need more hours of sleep than you may think. All children, even teens, need a bedtime. If you don't set a bedtime, your child will likely amuse him or herself endlessly until a very late hour. Some children will force themselves to stay awake to watch a TV show or place some interesting game. Parents can sometimes make the mistake of thinking that if they keep their child up later, he/she will be sleepier for bedtime. However, children often have a more difficult time sleeping when they're overtired. The needs of each child will vary, but charts similar to the one at the right, can be helpful to determine if your child's sleep is seriously off-track for their age range. As a general rule, children need MORE sleep than we might think (or than they are perhaps getting). This chart may end at 6 years of age; however experts tell us that older children and teens still need upwards of nine hours per night. And let's not forget the "grown-ups". We all need reminders to stop and take care of ourselves, including our sleep.

In Our Schools and Your Community

Parent-Child Activities

Take time to try some of the following activities with your child:

Preschool Treasure Hunt – Hide ten small objects, such as blocks or toy cars around the house. Send your child on a treasure hunt to see if he or she can find them.

Learning to Sort Objects - Have him or her sort the clean forks and spoons before putting them away. Help him or her match clean socks in pairs before putting them away.

Learning the Concept of "Beginning, Middle and End" – Enjoy a favorite story together. After reading the story, ask your child to tell one thing about the beginning, one thing about the middle, and one thing about the ending of the story.

Sleep Recommendations
